TASTE

Grab it! If the hostess is a chocoholic, DayBreak Lavender Farm in Streetsboro offers the perfect gift. This espresso chocolate torte mix in a bag produces a pleasantly crumbly yet creamy result, strong on cacao. The cake serves 16, and the kit costs $16.95. A truffle mix, which produced a marble of delight on top, had a whisper of floral taste and extreme richness. The truffles were especially easy to make. A $19.95 bag makes 50. Find both kits at:

DayBreak's Dark Chocolate Lavender Truffle Mix

... well, this is food become entertainment! Whip up a batch of our Dark Chocolate Lavender Truffles, pass them with the care you would lavish on diamonds and then watch as grown men and strong women swoon, collapse, go weak in the knees, or merely roll their eyes and demand silence ... it only takes about two seconds for your guests' tastebuds to alert the brain to new depths of choco-liciousness. And you can watch their chocolate synapses sending the message!! Guests schmests!! Make a batch of these for yourself and forget the world ... this is decadent de-stressing!!

Now, a trio of practical points worth noting. First, ours are 1-step Truffles. Whip up the batch, roll your truffles once. Chill. Dust with the included Cocoa Powder and you're done! No second rolling in Ganache. We've put all the goodness in one simple step.

Second, you receive two separate, complete pouches of Truffle mix. Fix separate batches for different occasions. Or make one large batch, divvy it up into gifts or freeze in small portions if you like. These are so rich, you only need one or two per person.

And lastly, for those on sugar restricted diets, we add no sugar to the already low sugar semi-sweet and bittersweet chocolates. So check your diet or meal plan and see if you can't enjoy one. Trust me, one - or even half of one - of these Truffles is all you need!!
